

Europe Direct North Aegean

Europe Direct Information Center of North Aegean (EDIC Of North Aegean) was established in January 2013 and operates under the auspice of the European Commission where its office is hosted by the Aegean University, located in the city of Mytilene.

Scientific Director of Europe Direct of North Aegean is Professor of Aegean University, Panos Grigoriou and holder of European Chair Jean Monnet.

It is part of a pan-European network of approximately 500 centers in 28 Member States out of which 18 are located in Greece. Europe Directs are under the General Management of the European Union Communication Department (EU) and under the coordination and supervision of the delegated European Commission in each Member State.

Investment Plan for Europe: The Juncker Plan- InvestEU

d electron

Europe Direct North Aegean is one of the three European Information Centers across Greece (out of a total of 18), commissioned by the European Commission, to promote the InvestEU in the North Aegean Islands.

Our goal is to inform and raise awareness amongst authorized official bodies (national, public and private authorities) as well as citizens about European funding opportunities for development actions, training and development opportunities in a European region. As part of the public awareness campaign, conferences, informational meetings, excursions to major development projects as well as radio or television broadcasts are organized.

The top priority of the European Commission is to bring Europe back on track and to increase jobs without creating new debt.

The Investment Plan for Europe has three objectives: eliminating barriers to investment, visibility and technical support for investment projects and more efficient use of financial resources. It therefore consists of three pillars

- The European Strategic Investment Fund (ETSF) with an initial capital of 21 billion, which provides a guarantee, thus enabling the European Investment Bank to invest in more, sometimes, higher-risk projects and to invest more quickly than without the guarantee.

- The European Investment Advisory Center and the European Investment Portal, providing technical assistance and increasing visibility of investment opportunities.

- Improving the business environment by removing regulatory barriers to investment at both national and EU level.

Expansion of the Juncker Investment Plan

Expanding the Juncker Investment Plan by 2020 and raising the investment target by 315 billion euro to at least 500 billion euro was voted in favor by the plenary of European Parliament in Strasbourg.

Specifically, the ETSC Regulation 2.0 will come into force on 1st of January 2018 and in its new form will have significant improvements, such as increased transparency, a greater proportion of sustainable projects, greater focus on small projects and more technical support at local level.

It is worth noting that Greece is in the three countries that have benefited most from the Juncker package

"The Investment Plan works and refutes pessimists. The ERC creates jobs and mobilizes investments. That's why we recommend that it should continue to operate after 2018. Let's have ambitious targets for restarting investments in Europe. “Jean-Claude Juncker”
